THE TRADE COUNCIL

Recently EBRD recommended Uzbekistan in the Danish newspaper Børsen. “Uzbekistan is making great progress in a very short time. A new Government is implementing extensive reforms – and at the “ease of doing business” the country now ranks at the same level as China”. (Børsen 14 June 2018)

In 2017, The Uzbek government approved a district heating program that will transform and modernize the district heating sector in Uzbekistan to support the strategy of improving efficiency and energy savings.

Tashkent District Heating Modernization project is in preparation of a feasibility study financed by EBRD. Other district heating projects have been offered in selected cities: Andijan, Bukhara, Samarkand, and Chirchik financed by World Bank. The aim of the projects is to develop district heating systems as well as improve the efficiency and quality of deliveries with regard to both district heating and hot water. The projects include connections of several apartment complexes, but also the connection of kindergartens, schools, hospitals, etc. The district heating systems must generally be modernized and converted from open to closed systems. Thus, there is a need for Danish technology in all areas, pre-insulated pipes, pumps, boilers, heat exchangers, valves, meters, insulation materials, windows etc.
